

You shouldn't try to hinder new technology because you do not have a financial interest in the technology. What happened to free enterprise.